

OC COMMUNITY Resilience Fund

ROUND 3 & ALL GRANTEES

In response to the COVID-19 Pandemic, a consortium of organizations – Charitable Ventures, OC Grantmakers, Orange County Community Foundation and St. Joseph Community Partnership Fund – organized quickly to raise and swiftly deploy funds to nonprofits. The Orange County Community Resilience Fund (OCCRF) raised $4.18M from generous organizations, foundations and individuals in under three months. In three rounds of funding, the OCCRF provided rapid-response grants to 162 organizations. Funding decisions were guided by several factors and priorities including:

- Immediate and current provision of essential services such as shelter, food distribution, childcare, medical and mental health services to vulnerable residents
- Ability to distribute emergency funding to vulnerable individuals
- Organizational capacity to reach the most underserved
- Opportunity to leverage other streams of revenue and coordinated support efforts

With this Round 3 distribution, the OC Community Resilience Fund has now completed its initial purpose, which was to provide rapid response to a sudden surge in community need amid the COVID-19 pandemic.

At this juncture, we are no longer accepting proposals – however, we do intend to continue supporting relief efforts through our communications, website, webinars, and other means. Additionally, we intend to tailor the Fund’s response and investments as we move into this next phase of the crisis; from here on out, we’ll seek to support ongoing recovery efforts and rebuilding of capacity to serve our community’s needs.

Grantees for Round 3 are listed below, as well as a collective list of grantees from all three rounds.
